An Update to Registrants Regarding College Bylaws Following September Consultation

Thank you to those who responded to the consultation held over the month of September related to the College Bylaws.

Based on feedback received during the consultation, the version presented to membership during the September 2021 consultation is now the version of Bylaws that will be in use by the organization.

Council will now work on the next phases on the “bridge process” between now and the 2022 AGM. The steps of the “bridge process” are:

1. Governance Committee tasked with leading bylaw work

The important work to evolve the College bylaws will be led by the Governance Committee of Council. All the commentary regarding bylaws and amendments approved by motions at the 2021 AGM will move forward to the Committee as it continues to review the 16 amendments proposed and opposed at the 2021 AGM. Draft minutes from the July 29, 2021, AGM are found here. The purpose of posting the draft minutes is to provide a record of discussion from the meeting for registrants to consider when participating in the next steps of the bylaw review.

2. Stakeholder consultation process to commence in November

As part of the Governance Committee’s workplan, the Committee will develop stakeholder sessions via virtual meetings and also invite written submissions. The College recognizes the importance of engaging our stakeholders in meaningful dialogue so we may better understand how College bylaws can be strengthened to support the College’s mandate to protect the public interest. Details of the meeting sessions will be provided the first week in November.

3. Revised bylaws distributed to College registrants prior to 2022 AGM for further comment

Revised bylaws will be sent to members for review and further comment in February 2022. These bylaws will reflect input gathered from the consultation sessions, input submitted to the Governance Committee, and including commentary documented at the 2021 AGM.

4. Bylaw version prepared for presentation at 2022 AGM

Council will then consider registrants' comments and prepare a version of bylaws for consideration, no later than 45 days before the 2022 AGM. This step is intended to prepare participants voting on bylaws at the 2022 AGM.

5. Participate and vote at the 2022 AGM

The 2022 AGM is tentatively scheduled for the third week of June 2022. Bylaws will be confirmed at this meeting.
